WATERLOO, Neb., Jan. 27.-The town was aroused at 2 o'clock this morning by a terrific explosion, followed immediately by the loud burglar electric alarm attached to the bank safe and placed without the building. A number of citizens, headed by Vice-President Robinson of the bank, rushed to the scene, but were halted when across the street from the building by three masked men, who warned them to keep their places or get shot. The bank room was lighted and the citizens perceived two men within working on the vault. A charge of dynamite was placed against the steel. The men backed into one corner of the room. Three explosions occurred. At the third explosion the door of the safe was blown across the room and the masked men entered the vault. A few moments later they emerged with two sacks, which later investigation showed contained every cent of cash in the vault, about $5,000. They all disappeared

A posse was immediately formed to pursue the escaping robbers, and bloodhounds were telegraphed for. The bloodhounds arrived at noon, but had trouble taking the scent. By chance the trail was discovered two miles north of Waterloo, and the dogs accompanied by a large posse started in hot pursuit. A large roll of bills was discovered under the floor of a barn to which the dogs ran.

STEELVILLE, Ill., Jan. 27.—At 3 o'clock this morning two robbers blew open the vault of the bank of Steelville withn itroglycerine, securing $3,000 in currency, and fled with citizens in pursuit. One man stood on guard with a brace of revolvers in his band while the other broke into the vault. his band while the other broke into the vault. The men had a carriage at the outskirts of the town and drove away. It is believed that they at once made for St. Louis.

SULLIVAN, Mo., Jan. 27.—The Bank of Union this afternoon recovered the $4.300 in gold which was stolen by William Rudolph and Fred Lewis. It was buried on the farm of Frank Rudolph, the stepfather of William. After being "sweated" for an hour and a half, the old man broke down and told the detectives where the lost was and told the detectives where the loot was hidden.

CHURCH FEDERATION MEETS. White, Colored, Protestants and Jews

The Federation of Churches and Christian Organizations in New York began its seventh annual meeting and second annual conference yesterday in the board room of the Methodist Building. Clergymen, sociologists and religious workers of all kinds attended in large numbers. Roman Catholic, Protestant Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, both white and colored, and Dutch Reformed were some of the bodies represented. Several Jews were present. It was said that seldom in New York or any other city had there been a similar gathering.

J. Bayard Packus presided at the business meeting. The Rev. Walter Laidlaw, executive secretary of the federation, read a report which showed the year's receipts to be $9,582. The report said that in many respects Roman Catholics had better church equipment than Protestants. The federation now has twice as large a membership

Tenement House Commissioner Robert W. de Forest described the working of the new law, which he said has greatly improved the quality of buildings erected for tenement purposes. The department has to deal with over 4,000 complaints a month against nuisances, some of them showing grave conditions. He denounced the new tenement legislation proposed at but Can't Get Into Alleged Poolroom. When Capt. Dooley took command of the Bedford avenue police station, Williamsburg, last Friday, succeeding Capt. Short, who was transferred to Parkville, word was passed around that a number of poolrooms which Short had under surveillance were to reopen. On Monday the captain was "tipped off" that Mark Reardon of 267 Bedford avenue, who, it was alleged, had carried on a poolroom over the saloon of his cousin, George A. Reardon, a son of ex-Police Captain John A. Reardon, at 285 Bedford avenue, directly opposite the police station, was going to reopen. Capt

Short raided this place a short time ago. On Monday Capt. Dooley saw thirtyeight men go into Reardon's saloon and none came out. He sent Policeman O'Connor to follow the men. When O'Connor tried to go upstairs he was stopped by Mark Reardon. A scuffe ensued and Reardon was arrested. NEW PLAN OF ORGANIZATION WITH COMMITTEE OF 13,775.

Sheehan and Cantor on Good Terms at Executive Committee Meeting at Which Administration Was Praised and Famine of Office Beplored John C. Sheehan, Jacob A. Cantor and score of lesser politicians met at 1155 Broadway last night in what was called a meeting of the executive committee of the Greater New York Democracy. Mr. Sheehan had prepared a set of resolutions supporting the fusion administration and slapping Tammany once more. These were adopted after some of the members had asked President Cantor in manner more or less direct if he didn't think that the Greater New York Democracy should have had more appointments from the Borough President's office.

Mr. Sheehan's resolutions hoped that the city would not again fall into the hands of the public plunderers who used to have it "Nor did the chastisement inflicted on the Tammany leaders in 1901 effect the slightest change or attempted reformation of their organization," said the resolutions. "The proof is now absolute that Croker and Crokerism is to-day in the undisputed ascendency." Of the possibility of the election of a Tammany municipal ticket the resolutions said that it would be the return of the male-factors to the control of the city they had plundered and degraded.

Seth Low's administration was indersed as of purpose so high as to be beyond criti-cism. The resolutions closed with an ap-peal to the independent citizens of New York to consolidate the forces of good government on one harmonious combina-

Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Cantor were openly on good terms, but Mr. Sheehan's eyes twinkled when the members pitched into Cantor for not throwing more of the goods toward the G. N. Y. D.
